1920 Revolution Brigades Claim Downing of U.S. Reconnaissance Aircraft

August 28, 2004

"O' our fighting Iraqi citizens:"
"O' sons of Islam everywhere:"

"In such times as these, our wounded nation bears witness to the bombardment of our cities and our people, and their killings at the hands of the American occupier and its allies. Today, the National Islamic Resistance informs each Iraq yearning for his religion and country back of important news from the expert mujahideen brigade of Al-Zubair bin al-Awaam, one of the 1920 Revolution Brigades. During operations... in the Khan Dari region [between Baghdad and Fallujah], we shot down an American reconnaissance aircraft, shocking and astonishing the occupier with the means by which the plane was brought down."

"The 1920 Revolution Brigades will keep the sword focused on the enemies of our religion, and we will not sheathe our swords until we free Iraq, and we are able to pray in Al-Aqsa Mosque [in Jerusalem] after it is liberated, with the power of noble Allah. Allahu Akhbar, for He supports the believers."
