"...In the midst of intense security measures; despite the tyrants reinforcement of their posts and fortresses; even as their humiliated faces still show the fear of the big Battle of Shaykh Abul Baraa Ahmad; and, by the will and power of Allah—the courageous mujahideen have succeeded in piercing their defenses and security measures in order to launch a new wave of attacks at various times during the evening of Tuesday February 27, 2007, on more than 18 different targets, ranging from military posts, checkpoints, to mobile military targets—including the following:"

- “On the same evening, the mujahideen brigades launched three simultaneous attacks on various security checkpoints in the suburbs of Shoaabat al-Amr. Sniper and heavy arms fire were used at those locations and, thanks be to Allah, an unknown number of them were killed and wounded.”

- “On the same evening, a bomb was detonated targeting the pagan army In Batadmayat (Tizi Ouzu), killing and wounding an unknown number among the infidels.”
- “On the same day, the mujahideen ambushed a municipal police vehicle in Awlad Moussaa (Boumerdas) killing one and wounding another.”

“Several before these carefully-timed attacks, the courageous mujahideen successfully executed [various] counterattacks; including:”

- “On Monday, February 26, 2007, the courageous mujahideen executed a well-planned ambush on a convoy of pagan army and municipal police in the suburbs of Al-Akhderiya, killing and wounding at least five. Then, a bomb was detonated targeting supporting forces in the Hozamah district, causing an unknown number of casualties among them. The mujahideen returned to their base safe and sound.”
- “On Saturday, February 24, 2007, with the guidance of Allah, the mujahideen succeeded in detonating two bombs targeting a pagan army military vehicle in Al-Thaniya (Boumerdas), resulting in the deaths of four soldiers, wounding a fifth, and destroying their vehicle. “The enemy was very bewildered by these attacks, and tried to manipulate the facts to minimize their losses. [They also tried] to ambush the mujahideen and to execute impromptu counter-attacks, starting with a heavy bombardment of the mountains, which is still going on as we speak. However, we promise our Muslim brothers that the mujahideen are in good condition, they are unmoved by all this bombing, and they are in the stages of preparing more than one further round of attacks. All these attacks were launched as a gift for our oppressed Muslim brothers, who face humiliation and injustice from these criminals—and as a clear message to the dogs of the cross that all of your security plans are bankrupt and have failed, and that the youth of the Islamic Maghreb will not be stopped by your fortresses, nor your security measures, in our efforts to attack you in your own backyard and to achieve... either victory or martyrdom. Launching attacks or counterattacks in the cause of Allah is better than this life and everything it has to offer. We call upon our Islamic nation to embrace its pioneers from among the mujahideen, and to support them with men, money, and prayers...”
