

GlobalTerrorAlert

© 2007 Evan Kohlmann (<http://www.globalterroralert.com> – info@globalterroralert.com)

“Regarding the Recent Crusader Attack on Jihadi Media”

Official Communiqué – Al-Furqan Foundation
The Islamic State of Iraq (ISI)
(umbrella group headed by Al-Qaida in Iraq)
Published: September 13, 2007

“A Statement from the Al-Furqan Foundation Regarding the Recent Crusader Attack on the Jihadi Media.”

“...Let us discuss the deceitful crusader media that spreads its lies and hides its losses. It is clear, dear brothers, that the various media outlets of today are controlled by America—thus, matters that are pro-American are broadcast, while all other matters are kept hidden... Media is a powerful weapon that has the capacity to end regimes and destroy armies... Behold, my brothers, what occurred recently during their attempts at attacking the various jihadi web forums and their irrational crusader war targeting anything related to jihadi media—in an effort to establish complete media control over the status of the jihad and the mujahideen in all Muslim countries. That is indeed a sign of failure and the defeat of the crusader operation in Muslim lands.”

“Prior to this operation [attacking jihadi web forums], one of the American officials declared that the Internet is like a second Afghanistan. Also, General Petraeus warned in his latest report before the U.S. Congress about the dangers of the Internet in spreading extremism. Praise be to Allah for enabling our brothers operating the jihadi forums to spread frustration amongst the enemies of Allah. These brothers play a crucial role in broadcasting the voice of spreading the voice of the mujahideen to the rest of the Muslims. They have had a major impact in inspiring the jihadi awakening amongst the sons of this nation... Our brothers will not be affected by these attacks, nor will they be rebuffed by arrests and expulsions, because they are only aiming to spread word of the good deeds [of the mujahideen] and Allah is aware of that. So we ask you to learn a lesson of perseverance from your mujahideen brothers. You should ask assistance from Allah and pray for him. Be careful not to disappoint your mujahideen brothers in the battlefields... We pledge to pray for you, especially during this holy month of Ramadan, the month of victories and heroic acts. Your media work strengthens those who follow al-Tawheed and affirms the need to head to the battlefield...”